ACT OF INCORPORATION

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Andrew D. White, of Ithaca; in the State of New York; George Bancroft, of Washington, in the District of Columbia; Justin Winsor, of Cambridge, in the State of Massachusetts; William F. Poole, of Chicago, in the State of Illinois; Herbert B. Adams, of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland; Clarence W. Bowen, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York; their associates and successors, are hereby created, in the District of Columbia, a body corporate and politic by the name of the American Historical Association for the promotion of historical studies, the collection and preservation of historical manuscripts, and for kindred purposes in the interest of American history and of history in America. Said Association is authorized to hold real and personal estate in the District of Columbia so far only as may be necessary to its lawful ends to an amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, to adopt a constitution, and make by-laws not inconsistent with law. Said Association shall have its principal office at Washington, in the District of Columbia, and may hold its annual meetings in such places as the said incorporators shall determine. Said Association shall report annually to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution concerning its proceedings and the condition of historical study in America. Said Secretary shall communicate to Congress the whole of such reports, or such portions thereof as he shall see fit. The Regents of the Smithsonian Institution are authorized to permit said Association to deposit its collections, manuscripts, books, pamphlets, and other material for history in the Smithsonian Institution or in the National Museum at their discretion, upon such conditions and under such rules as they shall prescribe.

[Approved, January 4, 1889.]

CONSTITUTION

I.

The name of this Society shall be THE AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION.

II.

Its object shall be the promotion of historical studies.

III.

Any person approved by the Executive Council may become a member by paying three dollars, and after the first year may continue a member by paying an annual fee of three dollars. On payment of fifty dollars, any person may become a life-member exempt from fees. Persons not resident in the United States may be elected as honorary or corresponding members, and be exempt from the payment of fees.

IV.

The officers shall be a President, two Vice-Presidents, a Secretary, a Secretary of the Council, a Curator, a Treasurer, and an Executive Council consisting of the foregoing officers and six other members elected by the Association with the Ex-Presidents of the Association. These officers shall be elected by ballot at each regular annual meeting of the Association.

V.

The Executive Council shall have charge of the general interests of the Association, including the election of members, the calling of meetings, the selection of papers to be read, and the determination of what papers shall be published.

VI.

This Constitution may be amended at any annual meeting, notice of such amendment having been given at the previous annual meeting, or the proposed amendment having received the approval of the Executive Council.

ORGANIZATION AND ACTIVITIES

ORGANIZATION: The American Historical Association was organized at Saratoga, New York, on September 10, 1884, with an enrollment of forty members. In 1889 the Association was incorporated by Act of Congress, its principal office was fixed at Washington, and it was required to make an annual report to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. The object of the Association is the "promotion of historical studies," and the activities of the Association have steadily increased in number and widened in scope.

MEMBERSHIP: Any person approved by the Executive Council may become a member of the American Historical Association by paying $3.00, the amount of the annual dues. On payment of $50.00 any person may become a life member, exempt from dues. Any member may nominate for membership such persons as he or she believes to be properly qualified, but their willingness to accept election should in all cases be ascertained before presenting their names. Nominations should be made to the Secretary, who will furnish blanks upon request. Persons desiring to join the Association may make application to the Secretary to have their names presented to the Council.

DUES: There is no entrance fee. The annual dues are $3.00, payable on September 1 for the ensuing fiscal year. The publications of the Association are not sent to members whose dues remain unpaid after December 1.

PACIFIC COAST BRANCH: The Pacific Coast Branch was established in 1903, as an integral part of the American Historical Association. Those members of the Association who reside west of the Rocky Mountains may be members of the Pacific Coast Branch, and all members of the Pacific Coast Branch are members of the Association. The members of the Pacific Coast Branch pay their annual dues to the Treasurer of the Association, and receive all publications that are distributed. The Pacific Coast Branch has its own officers and committees and holds its own annual meetings.

The proceedings of these meetings, and certain papers presented at them, are published in the Annual Reports of the Association. A delegate is sent to attend the annual meetings of the Association.

PUBLICATIONS: The Annual Report of the American Historical Association is published by authority of Congress, and is distributed in the course of the year next following the annual meeting the proceedings of which it contains. Members are entitled to such Annual Reports as are distributed during any fiscal year for which they have paid their dues. Each Annual Report is in one or two volumes and contains the proceedings and program of the annual meeting, the proceedings of the Pacific Coast Branch, such papers, read at the meetings, as are selected for inclusion by the Committee on Publications, together with other material, such as documents, bibliographies, reports of commissions, etc. Annual Reports of past years (except those for 1896, 1898, 1903, Vol. I, and 1905, Vol. II) may be obtained, so long as they remain in stock, from the Secretary for $3.00 each. Volume II, of the Annual Report for 1905, was not distributed to members, but may be obtained for $1.00 from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

The Papers of the American Historical Association, its earliest publications, are contained in five volumes, which were issued from 1886 to 1891 and then discontinued. These contain the reports of the first seven annual meetings (1884-1890), abstracts and texts of papers read at the meetings, lists of members, and a certain number of monographs. The Papers may be obtained from the Secretary for $5.00 a bound volume. The separate "parts," four of which compose each volume, may be had for $1.50 each.

The American Historical Review is by special arrangement with the Board of Editors sent to all members in good standing. It is published quarterly, on the first of October, January, April, and July, each number being made up of articles, documents, book reviews, and notes and news, and containing 200 or more pages. Volume I begins with the number for October, 1895. A general index for volumes I-X was published in 1906. The Review is published by The Macmillan Company, of New York, from whom volumes of back numbers may be obtained, so far as they are in print, for $4.00 unbound, or $4.50 bound. The index for volumes I-X is sold for $1.50. Members should inform the Secretary promptly of any changes in address, and should notify him at once if any number of the Review is not received within two weeks after its issue.

The Handbook, containing the lists of officers and committees, with the names and addresses of members, is published in February of each odd year, by the office of the Secretary, and distributed to all members.

The series of Prize Essays of the American Historical Association is composed of those monographs for which the Justin Winsor and Herbert Baxter Adams Prizes are alternately awarded. Each monograph constitutes one volume of the series and is supplied to members, upon subscriptions sent to the Treasurer, for $1.00. The first volume in the series is published in 1909 and contains Mr. Edward B. Krehbiel's essay entitled, The Interdict: Its History and Operation, for which was awarded the Herbert Baxter Adams Prize in 1907. It will be followed by the Justin Winsor Prize Essay of 1908, Great Britain and the Illinois Country, 1763-1774, by Mr. C. E. Carter. The other essays for which prizes were awarded, prior to 1907, have been printed in the Annual Reports with the exception of Mr. D. S. Muzzey's essay on The Spiritual Franciscans (Herbert Baxter Adams Prize, 1905), which was separately published by the Association, but which is now out of print.

Writings on American History, an annual bibliography having 3000 to 4000 entries, is supported, in part, by a subsidy from the American Historical Association. It is published by The Macmillan Company at $2.50. The first volume of the subsidized series, containing the list of writings for 1906, was issued in 1908. The volumes for 1907 and 1908 appear in 1909.

Original Narratives of Early American History is the title of a series of reprints, edited under the auspices of the American Historical Association, and designed to provide a comprehensive and well-rounded collection of those narratives which hold the most important place as sources of American history anterior to 1700. The series is published by Charles Scribner's Sons, of New York (1906-), at $3.00 a volume, and will be complete in twenty volumes.

The Study of History in Secondary Schools, being the report of the Committee of Seven of the American Historical Association, was published by The Macmillan Company, of New York, in 1899, at fifty cents.

The Study of History in Elementary Schools, being the report of the Committee of Eight of the American Historical Association, is being published (1909) by Charles Scribner's Sons, of New York.

Acts of the Privy Council of England, Colonial Series, of which the first volume (1613-1680) was published early in 1909, will be complete to 1783 in five volumes (London, Wyman and Sons). The series is edited by W. L. Grant and James Munro, the expense of transcribing and editing being met by international co-operation. The American Historical Association is one of the financial supporters of this important work.

The Papers of the American Society of Church History were published in eight volumes from 1889 to 1897, and were discontinued upon the union of that society with the American Historical Association. They may be secured from the Secretary (except Vols. I and III) for $3.00 each.

ANNUAL MEETINGS: The present policy of the Association is to meet in rotation in the East, the West, and Washington. Annual meetings have thus far been held in Boston, Providence, New Haven, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, New Orleans, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, and Madison. The meeting of 1909, being the twenty-fifth, is to be in New York; that of 1910, in Indianapolis. The meetings are held during a period of three or four days within the dates of December 27-31. The program is made up of formal sessions with set papers and of more informal round table conferences, of the annual business meeting, and of various social features. The public is cordially invited to all sessions and conferences. Preliminary editions of the program, with detailed information respecting railroad rates, hotel accommodations, etc., are sent to all members some weeks in advance of the meetings. The meetings of the American Economic Association, the American Political Science Association, the Bibliographical Society of America, the American Sociological Society, and the Mississippi Valley Historical Association are generally held at the same time and place as those of the Historical Association.

CONFERENCE OF HISTORICAL SOCIETIES: In connection with the annual meetings there is held each year a Conference of representatives of the various state and local historical societies, for the discussion of matters of interest to such organizations, and the planning of co-operative activities. The reports of the Conference are printed in the Annual Report of the Association. All historical societies are urged to send representatives, whether members of the Association or not, to this Conference.

HISTORICAL MANUSCRIPTS COMMISSION: The Historical Manuscripts Commission was established in 1895. It has engaged itself in securing information respecting the manuscript sources of American history and in publishing calendars and texts. Thus it has printed, in the Annual Reports, the letters of John C. Calhoun, the letters of Salmon P. Chase, the correspondence of the French ministers to the United States, 1791-1797, and the diplomatic archives of the Republic of Texas (in press), as well as smaller collections of documents. The Commission endeavors to stimulate an interest in the proper preservation and making accessible of manuscript materials and has prepared a leaflet of Suggestions for the Printing of Documents Relating to American History. This leaflet may be obtained upon application to the Secretary.

PUBLIC ARCHIVES COMMISSION: The Public Archives Commission was established in 1899 for the purpose of examining into the condition and character of the public records of the United States, of the several states, and of local communities, with a view to obtaining and publishing such information concerning them as will make the records more generally known and more easily available for students. The Commission has been instrumental in securing legislation for the better administration of the public records in many states, and has printed, in the Annual Reports, reports of varying scope on the archives of about thirty states, as well as reports on the records of certain cities and counties, together with a summary of state legislation relating to the custody and supervision of the public records, and a bibliography of the printed public archives of the thirteen original states to 1789.

COMMITTEE ON BIBLIOGRAPHY: The Committee on Bibliography considers such bibliographical projects as come before it, and has caused to be prepared various bibliographies which have been printed in the Annual Reports. Among these have been a bibliography of the publications of American historical societies, a list of the public documents of the first fourteen Congresses, notes on the collections of works on European history in American libraries, bibliographies of Alabama and of Mississippi, etc.

COMMITTEE ON A BIBLIOGRAPHY OF MODERN ENGLISH HISTORY: This Committee was appointed by the Council in December, 1908, at the request of the Conference on English History, for the purpose of securing the preparation of a bibliographical introduction to modern English history.

COMMITTEE ON DOCUMENTARY HISTORICAL PUBLICATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT: In accordance with the instructions of President Roosevelt, the Governmental Committee on Department Methods appointed nine members of the American Historical Association to constitute an Assistant Committee on Documentary Historical Publications of the United States Government. The report of this Committee was transmitted to the President on January 11, 1909, and a copy of it has been sent to each member of the Association. Its recommendations, if carried out, will result in a great improvement in governmental methods of dealing with projects of historical publications, and it is hoped that members of the Association will endeavor to secure favorable consideration by Congress of those recommendations.

PRIZES: The Justin Winsor Prize and the Herbert Baxter Adams Prize, each of $200, are awarded in alternate years; the former, in the even years, for the best unpublished monograph in American history; the latter, in the odd years, for the best unpublished monograph in European history. The competition is intended for writers who have not yet published any considerable work or obtained an established reputation. Essays must be submitted on or before October 1, of the year in which the prize is awarded. Successful essays are published by the Association. Circulars containing full information may be obtained from the Secretary or from the Chairmen of the Committees of Award.

AMERICAN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION.

Members are hereby informed that the Association will have no copies of Volume II of the Annual Report for 1905 for distribution. The work comprises a Bibliography of American Historical Societies, by A. P. C. Griffin, forming a volume of about 1100 pages, in which is repeated and brought to date the Bibliography printed in the Association's Report for 1895.

Members desiring the volume may obtain it direct from the Public Printer, Washington, D. C., as provided by law, upon payment of cost of presswork and paper plus ten per cent. It is expected that the volume will be completed by June 1.

For the encouragement of historical research the American Historical Association offers two prizes, each of $200: the Justin Winsor prize in American History and the Herbert Baxter Adams prize in European History. Each is awarded biennially (the Winsor prize in the even years and the Adams prize in the odd years) for the best unpublished monograph submitted to the Committee of Awards on or before October 1st of the given year—e. g., by October 1, 1907, for the Adams prize in European History, and by October 1, 1908, for the Winsor prize in American History. The conditions of award are as follows:

I. The prize is intended for writers who have not yet published any considerable work or obtained an established reputation.

II. A. For the Justin Winsor Prize.—The monograph must be based upon independent and original investigation in American history, by which is meant the history of any of the British colonies in America to 1783, of other territories, continental or insular, which have since been acquired by the United States, and of independent Latin America. It may deal with any aspect of that history—social, political, constitutional, religious, economic, ethnological, military, or biographical, though in the last three instances a treatment exclusively ethnological, military, or biographical would be unfavorably received.

B. For the Herbert Baxter Adams Prize.—The monograph must be based upon independent and original investigation in European history, by which is meant the history of Europe, continental, insular, or colonial, excluding continental French America and British America before 1783. It may deal with any aspect of that history—social, political, constitutional, religious, economic, ethnological, military, or biographical, though in the last three instances a treatment exclusively ethnological, military, or biographical would be unfavorably received.

III. The monograph must present subject-matter of more than personal or local interest, and must, as regards its conclusions, be a distinct contribution to knowledge. Its statements must be accurate and the author in his treatment of the facts collected must show originality and power of interpretation.

IV. The monograph must conform to the accepted canons of historical research and criticism. It must be presented in scientific form.

It must contain references to all authorities.

It must be accompanied by a critical bibliography. Should the bibliography be omitted or should it consist only of a list of titles without critical comments and valuations, the monograph will not be admitted to the competition.

V. If possible, the monograph should be typewritten, but in any case it should be presented to the Committee free from erasures, interlineations, and other evidences of revision, though obvious mistakes of the typewriter should, of course, be corrected. If the work is not typewritten, it must be written carefully and legibly on only one side of the sheet, and must be in form ready for publication.

VI. In addition to text, footnotes, and bibliography, the monograph must contain nothing except the name and address of the author and a short introduction setting forth the character of the material and the purpose of the work. After the award has been made the successful competitor may add such personal allusions as are customary in a printed work.

VII. In making the award the Committee will consider not only research, accuracy, and originality, but also clearness of expression, logical arrangement, and especially literary form. The successful monograph must be written in good English. The prize will not be awarded unless the work submitted shall be of a high degree of excellence.

VIII. The successful monograph will be published by the American Historical Association in its annual report. The author will be given twenty-five copies of his work bound separately in paper and twenty-five bound in cloth; but in case he desire additional copies for personal distribution, or to present as part of the requirement for the doctor's degree, he shall pay the cost of striking off the extra copies. Separate copies of the monograph, bound in cloth, may be obtained of the Secretary, by anyone desiring them, at a cost of fifty cents each.

IX. Under the rules of the Government the successful competitor can purchase copies of his work from the Public Printer, and put them on sale at such price as he may see fit. Any competitor may make such use of his manuscript as he desires, even while it is in the hands of the Committee, provided that in case he receive the award he defer its publication by any one else than the Association until after the appearance of the Report of the Association containing the work in question. He must, however, relinquish all right of copyright in his essay, since the copyright of material published by the Government is forbidden by statute.

Address all correspondence relative to the Justin Winsor prize to Professor Charles H. Hull, Ithaca, N. Y.; and all correspondence relative to the Herbert Baxter Adams prize to Professor George Lincoln Burr, Ithaca, N. Y.

The Justin Winsor Prize (which until 1906 was offered annually) has been awarded as follows:

In 1896 to Herman V. Ames, for his work entitled The Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the United States.

In 1900 to William A. Schaper, for his work entitled Sectionalism and Representation in South Carolina; with honorable mention of the work of Mary S. Locke on Anti-Slavery Sentiment before 1808.

In 1901 to Ulrich B. Phillips, for his work entitled Georgia and State Rights; with honorable mention of the work of M. Louise Greene on The Struggle for Religious Liberty in Connecticut.

In 1902 to Charles McCarthy, for his work entitled The Anti-Masonic Party; with honorable mention of the work of W. Roy Smith on South Carolina as a Royal Province.

In 1903 to Louise Phelps Kellogg, for her work entitled The American Colonial Charter: a Study of Its Relation to English Administration, chiefly after 1688.

In 1904 to William R. Manning, for his work entitled The Nootka Sound Controversy; with honorable mention of the work of C. O. Paullin on The Navy of the American Revolution.

In 1906 to Annie Heloise Abel, for her work entitled The History of Events Resulting in Indian Consolidation west of the Mississippi River.

From 1897 to 1899 and in 1905 the Justin Winsor Prize was not awarded.

The Herbert Baxter Adams Prize was awarded:

In 1905 to David S. Muzzey, for his work entitled The Spiritual Franciscans; with honorable mention of the work of Eloise Ellery on Jean Pierre Brissot.
